

Blue Latex Palm & Finger Coated Gloves

I also have a good price on my blue latex palm and finger coated gloves. Now, the ones I carry are a string knit glove that is dipped in that blue latex material on the palm, fingers and the thumb. With them being a string knit they fit tight on your hands so you will have more dexterity. You can pick up a screw or even write with a pen while you or your guys have them on. They also have the textured palm and fingers to give some extra grip. Retail price on these gloves at your local hardware store will run you right at 4.99 a pair, but anyone that works with me on a small, HALF A BOX of my gloves today I'll pay the freight to get them out there to you on that 30 day open account for a flat 2.99 a pair!! And that's a good price right!!

If customer asks how many is in a half a box response is: Just twelve dozen.
